Overview

The Notifications Centre is accessible to all GameDay administrators, providing system-based notifications - such as alerts on duplicate member profiles that need to be addressed or exported data ready to be downloaded - and updates such as release notes and new features.

Accessing the Notifications Widget

The Notifications centre can be found using the BELL icon in the top toolbar:

You will initially see any new notifications at a glance, as well as options to:

- Mark all notifications as read
- Refresh your notifications list
- Action individual notifications (I.e. download a queued export)
- Mark individual notifications as read
- View all notifications

Click VIEW ALL to open the full Notifications Centre

Notifications Centre

The Notifications Centre offers a full page view of all your notifications, including a summary of notification status, filters and search functions, and actions such as marking notifications as read or downloading files:

1. Notification Status Summary: Displays a breakdown of your notifications, including how many of your notifications are unread or read

2. Mark all as read: Click this button to mark all unread notifications as read in bulk

3. Filters: Filter your notification list by Notification Type (i.e. export, sync, duplicates) or by Status (read, unread, failed)

4. Search: Search for notifications based on the notification title

5. Mark as read: Mark an individual notification as 'read'

6. Action: Action the notification (i.e. download an export)
